President Hikes U.S. Tariff On Watch Imports

Acts To Keep Yank Industry In Shape; Swiss Displeased

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has raised the tariff on many watches manufactured abroad but a spokesman for U.S. watchmakers says most Americans will still buy Swiss imports.

The President's decision nonetheless was received with pleasure by the domestic industry and criticized from other quarters.

Swiss Minister Charles Bruggmann said it dealt a "serious blow" to his country's relations with the United States. He said the step hadn't been anticipated from a friendly government.

Eisenhower announced the first major tariff boost of his administration late yesterday. Effective today except on shipments already in transit and cleared through customs by Aug. 26, it hikes the duty as much as 50 per cent on watches with no jewels or no more than 17 jewels.

The effect will be to raise imported watch prices $3.50 to $5. The Federal Tariff Commission had recommended the increase. It said heavy imports were hurting the American industry.

The White House said raising tariffs also would keep the industry in shape to produce watch movements and other precision devices "necessary for national defense."

Paul F. Mickey, vice president of the American Watch Manufacturers Assn., said the tariff increase gives American producers "a chance to survive" in the face of a flood of Swiss watches that has "literally strangled our industry."

He said the boost still wouldn't equalize costs and predicted Swiss imports "will continue to supply the majority of the American market."

On the other hand, CIO President Walter Reuther labeled the move "tragic" and said it would antagonize "countries whose friendship we seek."

Patrol's Steady Work Has Cut Ohio Accidents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State patrol officials feel tighter enforcement is helping turn the tide of highway traffic accidents in Ohio.

And lawmakers studying means of reducing highway accidents and deaths expect the next Legislature to give the patrol a big assist.

Latest highway patrol figures look encouraging to officials. They report accidents investigated by the patrol dropped 1.3 per cent in the first six months of this year below the corresponding 1953 total. But fatalities dropped 4.3 per cent and injuries 9.2 per cent in the same period.

The report shows that accidents, mainly outside cities, decreased from 15,141 to 14,947. Fatalities dropped from 422 to 404 and the number of injuries from 9,035 to 8,201.

Patrolmen have been concentrating on enforcement of motor vehicle laws in recent months. Thousands of motorists have been warned or

Gypsy Robs Elkton Man, 81, of $320

A "gypsy" woman attacked an 81-year-old Elkton man Tuesday afternoon at his home and lifted $320 from his wallet.

Bert Welker, a slight 150-pounder, told Sheriff Howard Clark the husky woman frisked him after asking for a drink to quench her thirst.

"The woman asked me for a glass of water, but drank only part of it," Welker said. She then asked for some salt. As Welker turned to go into his house, where he lives alone, she shoved him inside, clamped a stout arm about him and yanked the billfold from his hip pocket, the victim said.

Welker said she took 16 twenty dollar bills, but overlooked $10 he had tucked in a secret compartment of the wallet.

The woman, dressed in a blue blouse and a long, black skirt, fled to a car in which a man and woman were waiting, the Elkton man said. He said she was in her fifties.

Welker said his neighbors, Clyde Barnes and John Clapsaddle, were away when the robbery occurred.

STAR WITNESS—Attractive Susan Hayes, 24-year-old Los Angeles, Calif., medical technician, prepares to board a plane for Cleveland, Ohio, where she will testify about her relationship with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard. With Miss Hayes is Cleveland Detective Robert Schottke.

Miss Hayes Gives Statement On Relations With Sheppard

BULLETIN
CLEVELAND (AP)—County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullinan today said pretty Susan Hayes had told additional intimacies with Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

In her signed statement, the prosecutor said, the 24-year-old hospital technician reported she had been intimate with the osteopath during his visit to California last spring and at other times also.

CLEVELAND (AP)—Today or tomorrow the police will have another round of questions to ask Miss Susan Hayes.

She furnished another written statement last night to investigators studying the July 4 slaying of pretty Marilyn Sheppard, the osteopath's wife who was bludgeoned to death in Bay Village. They did not disclose what Miss Hayes said.

Last night Miss Hayes stayed at a downtown hotel in the company of a police woman, an arrangement which Police Chief Frank W. Story described as "almost at her own request, and certainly with her acquiescence." He said she was not being held in custody, but "We plan to talk to her again."

The 24-year-old laboratory technician flew here last night from Los Angeles, where she had been questioned before about her relationship with the slaying victim's

Ike Says Plane Attacks Planned To Split Allies

Atomic Filibuster Ends Senate OKs Bill 57-28

WASHINGTON (AP)—Controversy over the bill designed to carry out President Eisenhower's atomic program shifted today behind closed doors after a marathon debate in the Senate finally ended last night with 57-28 passage.

A Senate-House conference committee now must adjust basic differences in separate versions of a big bill to open the atomic power field to private industry and to authorize the release of limited nuclear information to U. S. allies.

Senate passage came at 9:47 p. m. last night, at the end of 13 days and nearly 169 hours of acrimonious debate. The bill was supported by 44 Republicans and 13 Democrats and opposed by 2 Republicans, 25 Democrats and independent Sen. Morse of Oregon.

The battle left open scars in the Senate over the bill's power provisions and the tactics used by Republican Leader Knowland of California to break what he termed an opposition filibuster.

Whether these resentments would lead to stiffer opposition to other key administration measures, including the foreign aid, housing and tax revision bill, remained to be seen. GOP leaders are driving for adjournment by Aug. 7.

The Senate adopted amendments to the atomic energy bill, a revision of the 1946 basic act, to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) and other federal agencies to build atomic power plants, if they can get the funds. It also postpones any exclusive nuclear patents for 10 years.

Grants Patent Rights
The House bill, passed Monday, grants normal patent rights for civilian atomic developments not conceived under government auspices and bars the AEC from the A-power business.

These differences must be hammered out behind closed doors. Opposition senators have threatened another talkfest if their version is jettisoned. The House, under strong leadership control, appeared equally insistent upon its measure.

Senate opponents gave up the fight suddenly last night after two weeks of denouncing the bill as a gigantic giveaway—a view disputed by GOP leaders.

The final session of debate, starting Monday, lasted just short of 36 hours.

The back of the opposition appeared broken Saturday night when Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas joined in an effort to limit debate. He failed, as Knowland did in repeated attempts.

Closure Move Failed
Knowland also lost Monday in a move to invoke cloture or an automatic time limit.

The majority leader took sharp criticism during a two-hour debate yesterday on his parliamentary tactics, but after that the air cleared and the Senate moved steadily toward the final vote.

There appeared to be few differences between House and Senate versions on the other main provisions in the bill.

1. Authority for the President to give foreign allies limited information.

2. The American view was said to be that security and economic aid would be far more desirable than the fresh destruction which would occur in any renewal of the war to drive the Communists from North Korea.

Open House For Adults Planned Tuesday

Youth Canteen Sets Official Opening For Friday, Saturday

The new Memorial Building by Salem students in the basement of the Memorial Building, will be open every Friday, Saturday and Tuesday evening. On Fridays and Saturdays it will be in operation from 7:30 until 11:30 and on Tuesdays from 7 until 10 p. m.

This weekend, the Canteen will have an open house for all eligible members who must have been graduated from Junior High School and have not yet reached their 20th birthday.

Next Tuesday, an open house for adults only is scheduled. On that night all interested parents are invited to visit the Canteen and inspect its facilities.

Members of both the Junior and Senior board of directors and of the Rotary Club, which is sponsoring the Canteen, will be on hand to conduct tours and answer questions. It probably will be the only opportunity adults will have to extensively tour the canteen.

Then, starting Friday, Aug. 6, members only will be admitted to the Canteen. Membership application blanks will be available at the center this weekend. Membership is one dollar for the first six months, Boone said.

Renovation of the four-room layout was completed yesterday.

The snack bar was completed, a television set, coolers for the snack bar, a telephone, juke box and lighting fixtures were installed, drapes were hung, a clock was donated and the last of the floors were painted last night. Restroom fixtures have been donated and will be installed shortly.

The Canteen will offer dancing, ping pong, pool, TV and a snack bar which will have soda pop, ice cream, candy, potato chips and other "taste tempters." It is hoped to eventually add checkers, chess, cards and other games for recreation.

Salem High School students themselves realizing the apparent need of a youth center, inaugurated this project during their spring vacation last April.

Many Students Help
Since then, with dozens of students pitching in to do the work, they have completely revamped.

President Warns U.S. Means To Defend Rights

Ike Says He Would Be Disappointed If Legislation Failed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the Chinese Communist attacks on American and British planes are part of the Red plan to split the Western allies. He declared the United States means to defend its rights.

The President told a news conference the American rescue planes which were attacked by the Chinese Communists were engaged in legitimate business.

The United States means to defend its rights whenever it is engaged on legitimate business, he said.

Downed Near China
The American aircraft shot down two Red planes after being attacked over the South China Sea. The President also dealt with these other matters:

LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM—Eisenhower said he would be more than bitterly disappointed if Congress should adjourn without approving such administration measures as those dealing with foreign aid, farm policy, tax revision, housing and social security.

And he added, in reply to a question, that he feels an increase in the 275 billion dollar national debt ceiling is inescapable.

Debt At Suez Pact
ANGLO-EGYPTIAN — He said he is highly pleased with the agreement reached by Great Britain and Egypt on terms for settling their argument over the Suez Canal zone.

The agreement reflects statesmanship and patience on both sides, he said, adding that he hopes Egypt now will be able to advance with her friends from both economic and security standpoints.

POLITICS — Eisenhower said he still supports Sen. Cooper (R-Ky) for re-election despite Cooper's break with the administration on two votes in connection with the atomic energy bill.

Talked With Cooper
The President said Cooper came to him and was honest about the whole thing in explaining his position. He said he respects the senator's opposition on a legal question involved in the issue.

FOOD PRICES — The President expressed the hope that food prices will stabilize if Congress passes the administration bill calling for a flexible farm price support program instead of the rigid support plan now in effect.

TARIFFS — The United States, the President said, must continue to work toward a freer flow of world trade, even though he found it necessary to hike the tariff on certain imported watches up to 50 per cent.

An auto driven by Mary D. Kirk, 67, of Lisbon was slightly damaged at 11:15 a. m. yesterday when she stopped for a traffic signal at the corners of State St. and Broadway and a car driven by Agnes Greer, 30, 918 Liberty St., backed into it.

A motorcycle owned by Richard A. Wyss, 22, of Beloit, was damaged while parked behind a building at 409 E. 2nd St., apparently hit by an unidentified vehicle between 8 and 11 a. m. yesterday.

FISHING ROD STOLEN

COLUMBIANA — Firestone American Legion Post heard Monday evening reports from the three high school juniors, Jim Warrick and Lloyd Mackall of Columbiana High, and John Mellinger of Fairfield Centralized High, whose trip to Buckeye Boys' State at Camp Perry in June was sponsored by the post.

Warrick told of the formation of the state, counties and cities by Boys' State and of the general routine. As a member of its state highway patrol, he told also of the duties and aims of that phase of the state government.

Mackall, who was editor-in-chief of "Hetuck," Boys' State daily paper, showed the different headlines and gave an explanation of them. He also related some humorous incidents of the trip.

Mellinger, who was elected by Boys' State to its house of representatives, reported on the process of legislation.

GEORGE SNOKE, new commander of the post, presented Past Commander Robert Patchen with a lapel pin, and Adjutant Thomas Crawford a year bar in recognition of past service to the post.

John Ellis, baseball chairman, reported that the invitational tournament being played at Firestone Park is going into the second round. Winners in the first round were East Liverpool, Toronto, and Midland; losers, East Palestine, Columbiana and Cadiz. Play continues this week, the winner to be decided next Sunday.

Rev. Percy Atkinson of Pernath, Wales, British Methodist exchange minister at the Toronto church this summer, will speak at the picnic of the Columbiana Church in Pavilion 2, Firestone Park, at 6:30 p.m. today.

Rev. Mr. Watkinson, his wife and son and daughter, are guests today of Rev. W. S. Longworth at the Columbiana Methodist parsonage.

AFTER A PICNIC supper served by Heck's in Pavilion 2, Firestone Park, Monday evening, the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs adjourned their joint meeting to the softball field, where the Rotarians won 17-16.

Dr. C. W. Dewalt was Kiwanis captain, and Richard Berryman, Rotary captain; Rev. H. J. Scheidtmantle, Kiwanis umpire; and Rev. W. S. Longworth, Rotary umpire. President William Furney announced that Kiwanis will return to Heck's next Monday evening. Larry Anderson, chairman of the Rotary vocational service committee, will be program chairman for the club meeting next Monday evening.

A number of Columbiana Rotarians plan to attend the charter presentation for the new club at Lisbon at Salem Golf Club next Tuesday evening. Visiting Rotarians Monday evening were Milton Steiner and Lester Burton of Salem.

EDGAR (BUD) MOSER, 33, of E. Park Ave. Ext., who it was feared might lose the use of his right arm as a result of an accident last Thursday evening, is coming along all right in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Youngstown.

Death By The Box:

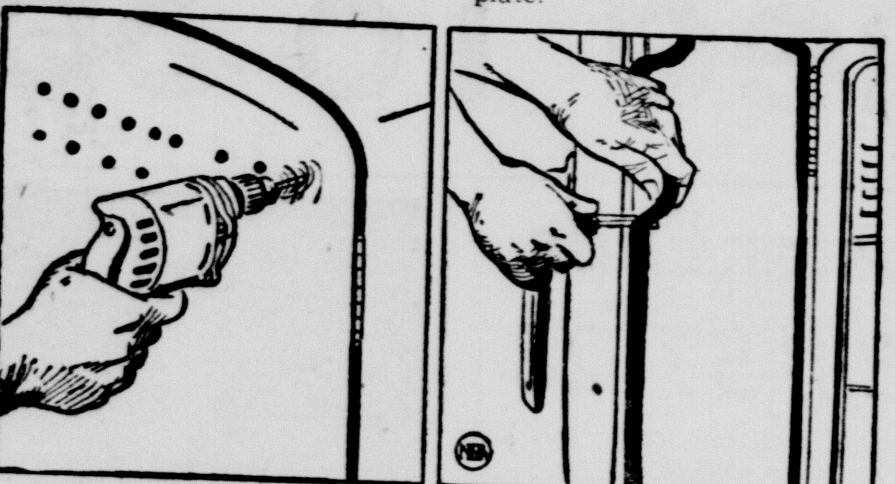

Hidden Danger Of Discarded Ice boxes
Takes Annual Fatal Toll Of Children

Each year, playing children crawl into discarded iceboxes and refrigerators and are unable to get out. In the six years, 1948-53, there were nearly 50 cases where from one to five children were thus trapped. In these incidents, 79 children have died. In February, 1954, two more were added to the death toll. Summer is the critical time. Old iceboxes or refrigerators are potential death traps because one essential of the cabinet is that it be airtight. Once the door is closed (which automatically latches it) whatever air is inside will be exhausted by the child in a relatively short time. According to the National Safety Council, which annually issues warnings against this hazard, there should be a conscious effort to dispose of those empty iceboxes, refrigerators or freezers. It can be done by owners as individuals or by community groups. There are more than 50,000,000 iceboxes refrigerators, freezers and other such airtight cabinets in use today. They are being discarded at the rate of approximately two to three million a year. It is now estimated that the number of discards will continually increase over the next few years. The Council's recommendations for making the boxes safe are illustrated here.

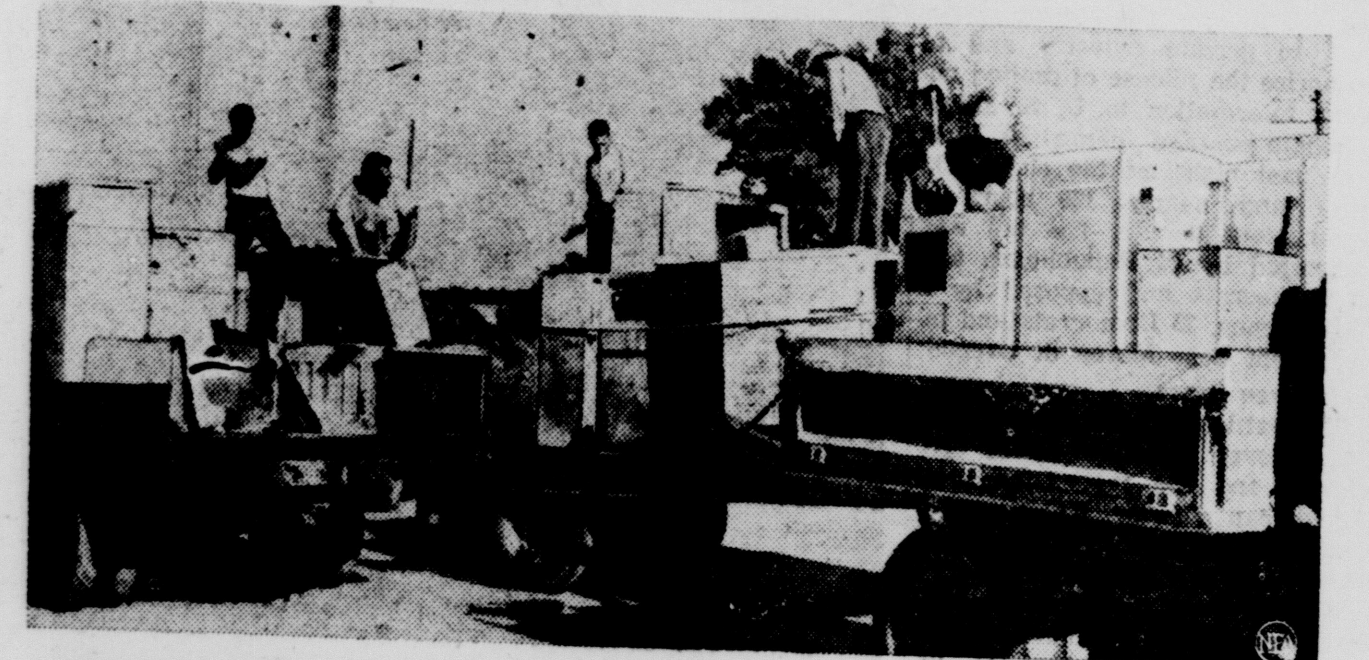

REMOVE DOOR. It's the best way to make airtight cabinets completely safe.

REMOVE THE latch stop by removing the screws from the plate.

DRILL HOLES in the cabinet and remove rubber gasket. These easy operations together, but not singly, will unseal box and allow air in.

COMMUNITY ACTION by civic groups is a good method of eliminating the hazard of discarded refrigerators that has been used by some communities. This photo was taken during a roundup of old iceboxes by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Leavenworth, Kan. The Jaycees are using sledge hammers to make the boxes harmless.

Park Ave., where fire from burning trash in the rear had communicated to a pile of discarded rubber tires.

Installment Interest
Limit Law Upheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Franklin County Common Pleas Judge Joseph M. Harter has upheld the constitutionality of a new state law limiting the amount of interest charged on installment plan buying.

The judge, in a 25-page decision, approved the law which limits the amount of interest on retail installment purchasing to 8 per cent.

A suit contesting the law had been brought by Glenn C. Teegardin, a retailer of new and used cars at Troy, Ohio.

The law also limits the bonus a finance company may pay to the retailer to 2 per cent. Previously, dealers have been paid higher rates for giving their mortgage business to finance concerns.

The last Legislature passed the law. Before its passage, it had been charged that finance companies sometimes "kicked back" from 4 to 6 per cent to the merchant for directing the loan business to the company.

New Jobless Claims
In Ohio Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — Claimants newly unemployed totaled 13,030 for the week ending July 24, a drop of 1,091 under the previous week, the state bureau of unemployment compensation reported today.

At the same time, the bureau reported the total of claimants unemployed one week or more at 96,593 for the week ending July 24, compared to 96,917 the previous week.

Those totals, however, do not include those persons who have exhausted their maximum unemployment payments and still may be unemployed.

Small increases in new claimants were reported in the Cincinnati and Toledo areas, and decreases in the Akron, Canton, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Youngstown areas.

Pennsylvania Railroad
Deficit Is Reported

PHILADELPHIA (P) — The Pennsylvania Railroad, reporting today on operations in the first half of 1954, listed a deficit of $3,665,085 for the six months ending June 30 despite net income of $1,726,039 for the month of June.

For the first six months of 1953, filed those years.

WASHINGTON (P) — Kroger Babb, Wilmington, Ohio, movie producer and distributor, and his wife, Louella, have challenged Internal Revenue Service claims against them for back income taxes and penalties totaling $300,984. They have appealed to the U.S. Tax Court.

Babb's firms—Hallmark Productions, Inc., and Hygenic Productions, Inc.—are incorporated in Ohio and operated in Hollywood.

This includes deficiencies in income tax payments of $152,109.99, along with $76,055 in fraud penalties and $4,549.67 in other penalties. Joint returns were filed those years.

$600,000 Arsonist
Tries It Again

BURBANK, Calif. (P) — A 13-year-old boy, recently released from Juvenile Hall after a year's detention for arson, is back in custody after setting another fire.

Police said he caused nearly $600,000 damage in 15 fires last year. They included a $250,000 lumber yard blaze and a $300,000 warehouse fire. A condition of his release was that he have 24-hour supervision at home.

Lt. Stanley Pageot, head of the police juvenile bureau, said the latest fire was set during an absence of less than 10 minutes. He said the boy soaked papers in oil and ignited them in a guinea pig cage near a pet shop. A passer-by extinguished the flames before the animals were injured.

The boy said his pet, a ring-necked dove, died while being cared for in the shop while he was at Juvenile Hall.

British To Pull Out Of Suez

Pact With Egypt Calls For Action By 1956

CAIRO, Egypt (P)—All Egypt celebrated today at the announcement that the British have agreed to pull their 83,000 troops out of the Suez Canal zone, probably by mid-1956.

Egyptian Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser and British War Minister Anthony Head signed a preliminary pact last night, agreeing on principles to be incorporated into a formal treaty. The final accord is expected to be signed in a month or two.

The agreement ended the two nations' long and often bloody dispute over control of the big land and air bases which Britain built in the strategic zone at a cost of $1,200,000,000.

It provides that all British troops will be withdrawn from the Suez within 20 months after the final treaty is signed, but that Britain can use the bases again if any of the eight Arab states or Turkey is attacked.

Britain also will maintain the present military installations along the 104-mile-long canal for seven years with civilian technicians.

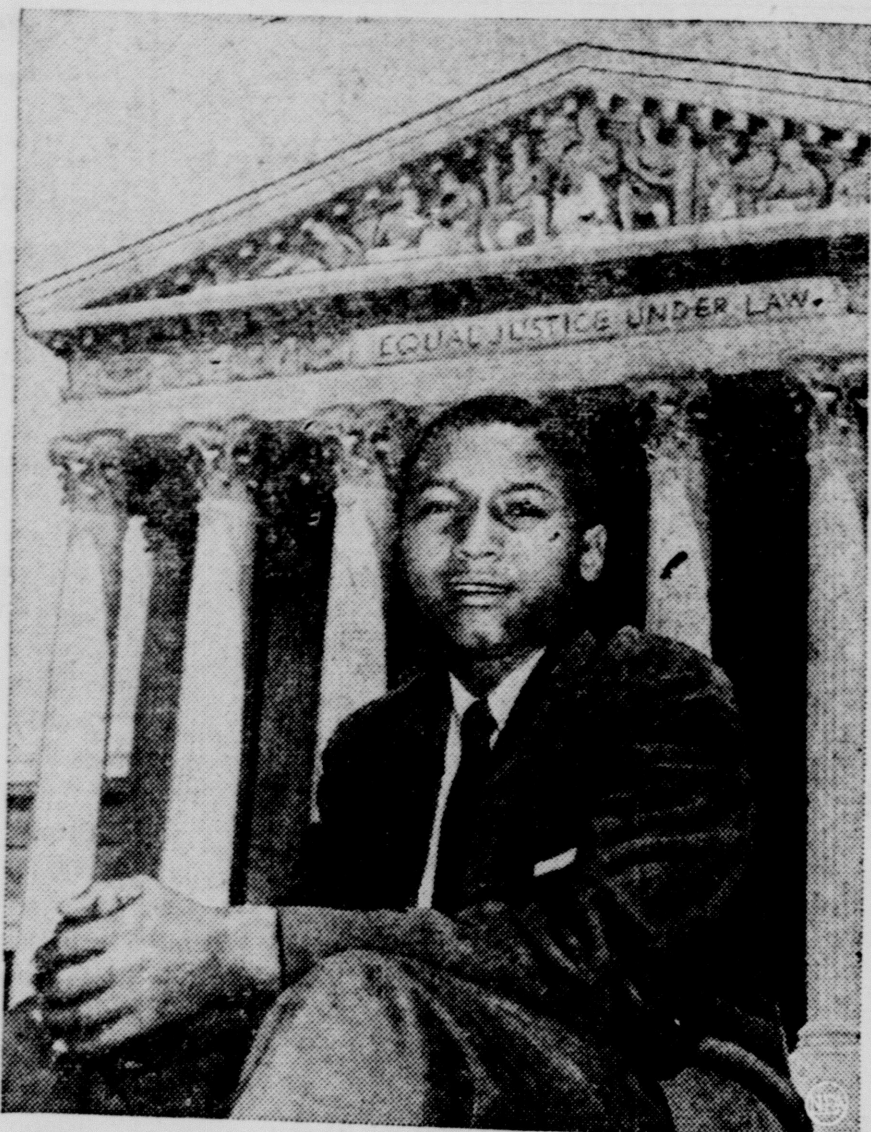

Col. Anwar Sadat, a member of Egypt's ruling Revolutionary Council, said last night Britain and the United States had agreed in principle to supply Egypt with military aid now that the Suez is settled. Sadat said the Egyptian army would be doubled within five years.

Nasser broadcast to the nation that "this is a glorious day in the history of Egypt." Radio Cairo, which normally closes down at midnight, stayed on the air all night to repeat the broadcast. Impromptu celebrations were reported throughout the country.

Egyptians were jubilant because the agreement, coming after years of bitterness and violence, means their country will be free of British troops for the first time since 1882.

British-Egyptian committees will begin work tomorrow on drafting the treaty details, Egyptian War Minister Lt. Col. Hussein Shafat announced. He said he expected the final pact to be signed by September.

British informants said all but minor points had been agreed upon.

When signed, the pact will be a companion to the British-Egyptian agreement last year to let the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, Egypt's big southern neighbor, determine for itself by 1956 whether it will become independent, join Egypt or affiliate with the British Commonwealth.

The United States officially stood aside in the Suez negotiations. But throughout the talks U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery kept in close contact with both sides and acted as a major consultant in helping to work out compromises, just as he had during the parleys on the Sudan.

The State Department was known to have urged Britain to reach an agreement in order to promote Arab cooperation with the West, particularly in building Middle East defense against Communist aggression.

The British-Egyptian negotiations on the Suez opened April

23, 1953, but bogged down several times in what appeared to be hopeless disagreement. A main stumbling block was British insistence that some troops must remain behind in the canal zone to keep the bases in working order. As a compromise, it was agreed that the British would make contracts with private British and Egyptian companies to do the upkeep.

The preliminary pact embodies these main points:

1. The final agreement will last seven years. During the last 12 months, the two governments will consult to work out future arrangements.

2. British troops will withdraw from their bases within 20 months after conclusion of the final treaty. The Egyptian government will then be responsible for the security of the canal zone.

3. After the withdrawal, Britain may maintain "certain agreed installations" with civilian personnel employed by British or Egyptian firms.

4. In the event of an armed attack on Turkey or any of the Arab League countries—Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Jordan, Iraq and Libya—Egypt will consult with Britain and afford her "such facilities as may be necessary in order to place the base on a war footing and to operate it effectively."

5. The British may move supplies in or out of the canal zone but may not increase their stores there unless Egypt agrees.

6. Egypt will maintain in good order any facilities turned over to her.

The pact was scheduled to go before the House of Commons today, with bitter debate expected.

Doctors Advised On Charging Of Fees

DEDHAM, Mass. (P)—The Norfolk County Medical Society advises its physician-members in its current medical news publication how to arrive at a fair fee for all patients.

It emphasized, "The fee should have no bearing whatsoever on the physician's need or lack of money or the patient's willingness to overpay."

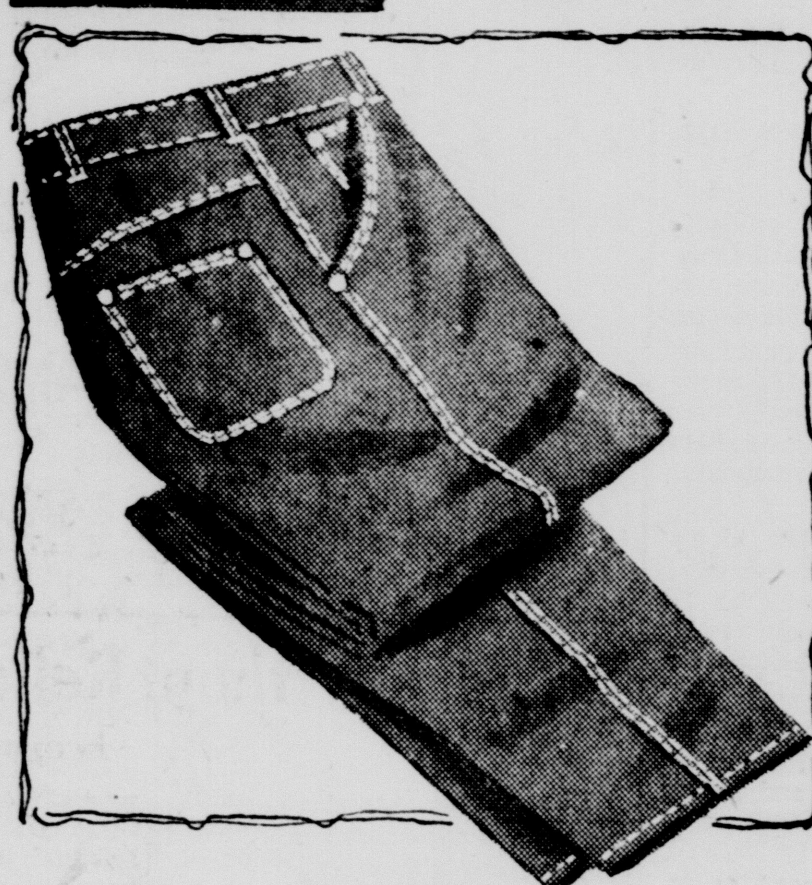

The article said: "If the very wealthy wish to throw their weight around, the physician should consider what he might lose in prestige by accepting an honorarium in excess of the established fee."

Too Much Secrecy

By CLAYTON G. HORN

Public Officials Abort People's Right To Know

The people's right to know how their elected representatives in government at all levels are conducting public business has been seriously abridged in recent years. By one method or another, frequently by the protection of ill-advised law, the politicians are dropping a veil of secrecy over their deliberations, their points of view and even their decisions.

Unfortunately, the precedent is being set in places as high as the Congress of the United States, whose members ought to know better, but what is even worse, their example will give public officials at lower levels an excuse to conceal at almost every stage of the legislative process.

Various newspaper organizations throughout the country are leading the fight against secrecy in government, not from any selfish motive because the right to know is not a privilege of the press but a responsibility to the people to keep them informed and to protect them against abuses and excesses in public life.

Every man, woman and child in the United States is affected by the actions of those elected or appointed to government jobs. It is the people's right, then, to know what they are doing, how they are spending the taxpayers' money and whose interests they are serving. The restraint of public opinion can be exerted only by a well-informed people and no people can be well-informed if public business is transacted in secret.

The Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, has undertaken the specific job of trying to break down the general practice of secret executive meetings of congressional committees.

ITS CHAIRMAN, V. M. Newton Jr. of the Tampa, Fla., Tribune, has found the key to the practice in the rule of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946, which reads as follows:

"Section 133 (f): All hearings conducted by standing committees or their subcommittees shall be open to the public, except executive sessions for marking up bills or for voting, or where the committee by a majority vote orders an executive session."

Under this ruling, it is quite obvious that any congressional committee for any excuse may order its doors locked at any time and deprive the people of their inherent right to know about their government.

Hence, Mr. Newton decided to go right to the core of the problem. He wrote March 10 to each of the 96 U.S. senators calling attention to the fact that in 1953 congressional committees held 1,357 secret meetings which constituted 44 per cent of the total 2,105 meetings held by this group.

He pointed out that very few of these secret meetings were concerned with matters of national security.

"Much of the legislation conceived and concealed behind the locked doors of these secret committee meetings was railroaded through Congress with a minimum of public debate and with little opportunity for the restraint of public opinion to be exerted," he said. "Some of it did not see the light of public print until it was adopted."

IN AN ANALYSIS of the correspondence, Mr. Newton made this summary:

"Sixty-two senators graciously took the time and trouble to answer, many of them in detail, but 30 simply did not reply although they were sent reminder letters. Some were forthright; others ambiguous. Eight ducked the issue."

"Twenty-five senators declared they were for open meetings of congressional committees except when considering matters of national security, a reasonable limitation."

"Thirteen others stated they favored open committee meetings with certain reservations such as the protection of witnesses' reputations and executive sessions for 'marking up' bills."

"Seven senators, by the tone and content of their letters, indicated they were open-minded and willing to discuss the matter reasonably with the press."

"Eleven went on record as favoring the secret executive sessions."

THE 11 MEMBERS in favor of secret meetings, together with the 30 who would not even discuss the problem by mail, add up to an imposing list of senators who are indifferent to the people's right to know.

We think Ohioans not only have a right to know what their senators are doing but how they stand on this important issue.

Sen. Thomas A. Burke was among those favoring open committee hearings, with certain reservations. Sen. John W. Bricker did not reply to the committee's original and reminder letters.

Reasoning Is Needed

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Back there in the days when schoolboys sharpened their English on Daniel Webster and Edmund Burke, they knew by heart the opening lines of the memorable reply to Hayne. Memory slips a bit on this, but the gist was that Webster told the Senate that when the many days of storm, wise mariners, at the first break, consulted their instruments and the sky to see where they were.

It might be well for all of us whose sensibilities have lost track of things in the howling storm of words uttered by the opponents of the Atomic Energy bill to go back to the beginning of this debate and read the enmeshed and reasonable speech of a Democrat who has, in this instance, kept faith with the fine traditions of his party, John O. Pastore of Rhode Island.

His speech, I believe, is the best of all utterances in this long session.

PASTORE is a member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, which was formerly and creditably headed by Sen. McMahon and of which the chairman is now Congressman Cole of New York. It is in the main a fine committee with foremost representatives of both parties and of both houses of Congress.

This committee, Pastore said, gave the bill "the most scrupulous kind of study. During the present session of the Congress, the committee has held more than 70 meetings, both in executive and public session. Witnesses from every phase of our society were heard."

"Many hours were devoted to refining the manifold provisions of the bill, the fact that the members of the joint committee have come into accord on the broad features of this proposed legislation is, in my opinion, its greatest accomplishment."

"Throughout the entire deliberations on this bill, the members have demonstrated an exemplary spirit of nonpartisanship."

Pastore made clear that he, as well as others members of the committee, worked sympathetically to achieve in the bill the three objectives stated by the President.

THESE WERE increased cooperation with our allies in the use of atomic power, improved procedures for controlling atomic information, and the encouragement of private participation in the development of peacetime atomic power.

The bill, Pastore asserted, did achieve those ends.

He went on to point out that he had always believed in the TVA.

in rural electrification, and in the great power projects of the Northwest.

Pastore cannot be convicted as an enemy of proper government enterprise. He assured his colleagues who were afraid of private monopoly that no such thing would be possible under the provisions of the bill.

HE SAID: "This legislation does not prejudice the question on whether atomic power some day will be generated primarily by private owned utilities or by public power corporations. The problem that we face today is a problem of devising ways and means of encouraging an attack on the scientific and engineering problems which must be solved before power from the atom can be competitive with electricity secured from conventional fuels."

Despite this assurance, some of his colleagues have injected the most violent partisanship, not to say demagoguery into this debate. This is not the conduct of a responsible party, it is the conduct of an irresponsible minority willing to use this serious problem for selfish ends.

Tch, Tch, The Things One Must Do For A Pal

Without Religion, No Resistance

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Asia is the homeland of the religions of the human race. While Catholicism ultimately developed in the European lands of the Roman Empire and most Protestant groups grew in the Germanic countries. Switzerland and England, Christianity is an Oriental religion out of Palestine and Syria. A I-though all human beings, even the most primitive, develop some form of religious experience, the great universal churches which have crossed national borders and have affected millions of people are the specific contributions of Asia to civilization.

RELIGION HAS, in every Asiatic country, determined the social characteristics of the people.

In China, historically four religious have been important: Taoism, Confucianism, Buddhism and Islam.

Taoism and Buddhism have become largely ritualistic in China, with emphasis on supernatural intervention in private life.

Confucianism is a pragmatic, atheistic, materialistic philosophy which has taken on the characteristics of a church and which has, in Western eyes, at least, the formalities of ancestor worship.

Islam in China is extensive, reaching from Turkistan to Shan-tung.

Hinduism, as a religion, is pantheistic, gloriously exultant in its literature but degeneratively ritualistic and superstitious in its non-philosophic expressions among the masses. Its literature is beautiful almost beyond anything that appears in other religious conceptions.

Indian Buddhism has taken on several manifestations, some often producing degenerate sex aspects.

role played by great religions in these countries and how they have spiritual movements among the people to ritualistic superstition.

ISLAM is the religion of Pakistan and Karachi is one of the most important Islamic cultural centers in all the world. Islam reaches into many parts of India. Pakistan is a bulwark against Communism as, thus far, are all Islamic countries.

Whereas Nehru, in the current climate of India, finds public opinion antagonistic to stern resistance against Russia, Pakistan is in alliance with the United States and is firmly set against Marxism.

Christianity came to China early in the Victorian manifestation, probably in the 7th century. The Nestorians were absorbed in the native population and disappeared, leaving only an historic record.

The Dominicans came in the 14th century and the Jesuits in the 15th century. Among the greatest of the Jesuit missionaries was Matteo Ricci (1552-1610) who exercised a tremendous influence in the imperial court. At one period, the Chinese Emperor, K'ang Hsi (1655-1723) was ready to adopt Christianity as the court religion and to convert the country, but the Jesuits and Dominicans got snarled in a quarrel over the name of God, whether it was to be translated as Shang Ti or Tien Chu and when the Pope intervened to instruct the Chinese Emperor as to the correct use of Chinese, the Emperor ordered Christian missionaries out of China (in 1706) with a few exceptions.

Christianity also moved in from the south, influencing India as well as China through the missionary efforts of Francis Xavier whose memory is still green. Also British and American Protestants appeared in the early 19th century in South China as missionaries, expanding their influence throughout the country.

SO POTENT were the small number of Christians that until the Communists took over, the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in China was almost entirely manned by graduates of Christian colleges.

Under British rule, both Protestant and Catholic missionaries made considerable progress in India. Goa, a Portuguese colony in India, developed into an important Catholic center.

In both countries, American Catholic and Protestant missionaries had grown increasingly numerous and influential until World War II. However, wherever the Chinese Communists take over, Christians are expelled and in some instances martyred.

It is historically interesting to note that only Christianity and Islam possess the inner strength and courage in these countries to generate opposition to Marxism.

It is in the nature of the current world struggle that a Confucian will find little, from a philosophic standpoint, that is offensive in Marxism, nor will a Hindu. On the other hand, a Christian or a Moslem, in whatever country, obviously cannot accept a philosophic system which rejects the concept of a mystical God who created the earth and all that is upon it, including man.

He cannot hear the voice of doom nor the wails of Jeremiah. He is strangely deaf to all predictions of what will become of him if he does not begin to hear things better. His trouble is not so much inability to receive auditory impressions as inability to choose among them, rejecting the bad and giving attention to the good.

He can hear the scream of a fire engine in the next town, or the tinkle of an ice cream peddler's bell on the next street. He can hear what his father tells his mother in strictest confidence, but he cannot remember that he ever heard a word of what was said to him in the form of a public edict about cleaning the basement.

That is when a boy wants to go fishing when it's time to clean the basement. Perhaps all the boys we see every morning when we are coming in from the country are refugees from dark and dirty basements that need cleaning. But perhaps they are just boys off for a day's fishing, with a can of bait and a lunch to be eaten under a tree — boys who will sprawl out on God's good earth under His wonderful blue sky and know how wonderful are His works — all of them — with a clear conscience.

We would stop some morning and ask about it, except the boys wouldn't know, being still too close to animalism to understand why anyone would want to analyze happiness.

Memo For An Angel

Perhaps Lieut. Genevieve de Galard-Terraube — "the angel of Bien Dien Phu" — is as puzzled as we are about her sudden prestige in the United States. She is getting the kind of attention once reserved for Channel swimmers and transoceanic aviators.

But we think we have figured it out, Mme. Angel. It is because Americans, Frenchmen and everybody else who cannot be forced to worship the state have a real need to find merit in individuals. What, then, could be more logical than to find it in a loyal and humble nurse who shared the hardships of her besieged countrymen in a military fiasco produced by a gross blunder of international politics?

As our own President Eisenhower was pointing out a few days ago, Mme. Angel, the ordinary people of this world bear no rancor. They are compassionate. They want to live in peace. They need to stage a great moral crusade to secure the spiritual values that bind them together in the brotherhood of man. When you cared for the afflicted at Bien Dien Phu, Mme. Angel, you acted in behalf of all ordinary people who suffer from the hate and violence of the extraordinary people who use violence to attain their goals.

Pacific 'Border Incident'

The three governments involved in aerial friction over the South China Sea are deeply aware of what is involved — the freedom of the air over Asia's coastline.

Britain has been affronted with an attack on an airliner of British registry. Communist China, the attacker, apologized for the attack and was affronted, in turn, by an attack on two of its planes by the United States. This was in retaliation for a Chinese attack on U.S. survivors of the Chinese attack on the British airliner.

The United States and Britain will do every thing in their power to protect freedom of the air over Pacific waters. This is the first time there has been any question about freedom of the air or the seas in the Pacific since Japan's surrender in 1945. Eventually, the rising power of the Chinese Communists will manifest itself in attempts to assert control of China's vast Pacific "border."

This could be a formidable problem, if the Chinese Communists continue to cooperate with the Soviet Union. Russia possesses a large submarine navy and is known to possess a even stronger air force.

"Border incidents" will become common if the attempt is made by China and Russia to dominate the coastal waters of Asia and the air above them. The attempt assuredly would have been made sooner than later if the United States had been slow to retaliate against the first overt attack on a western plane.

A Hammer On The Head

No one knows where gunfighting will break out next on the perimeter of the Kremlin's influence. It may be somewhere in the Near East. It may be in Malaya. It may be in Latin America.

The important thing is that the Kremlin has the power to decide where it wants gunfighting to occur. In a world full of smoldering hatreds and unscrupulous leaders, all it needs to do is fan the sparks of anger into a hot flame of warfare.

Then when the time comes to take credit among its subjects and among its admirers, it can call off the violence it has begun. It is the same practice precisely as the one referred to in the sad gag about the fellow who hit himself on the head with a hammer because it felt so good when he stopped. Except, in the case of the Kremlin, it does the hitting with the hammer because a world that wants to live in peace always feels so happy when the hammering stops.

There was the same good feeling when the gunfighting stopped in Korea that there is now about its stopping in Indochina. And when it ultimately is started again and stopped somewhere else, there will be congratulations all around and, among those directly involved, a sense of gratitude to the Kremlin for stopping what it had started.

A former president of the United States, Herbert Hoover, once likened the Kremlin to a marauder who stalks through the corridor of a hotel trying the doors, to find the unlocked ones. The simile was too mild. The Kremlin is like a madman with a loaded pistol and a hostage to protect himself from the gunfire of the victims he intends to kill one at a time.

The hostage is the world's hope of averting World War III.

beaten down decisively. Major fights were on amendments to cut sharply allotments for military aid for Europe and Southeast Asia. Reductions totaling 512 million dollars in these two programs were proposed by Rep. Glenn R. Davis (R-Wis) and were fought by Republican leaders with heavy Democratic backing.

Cut $812 Million

As it is, the bill is $812,213,554 below the total amount requested by President Eisenhower for the present fiscal year. The cut includes $542,605,805 in new funds requested and $269,607,749 in funds left over and unobligated from previous appropriations. The latter now revert to the Treasury.

Biggest cuts approved by the House included $430,479,554 in new and old funds for general military assistance to non-Communist nations and 169 million for direct support of military forces already in existence.

The bill allots $2,895,944,000 in new cash and $2,312,475,979 in carry-over funds. An estimated eight billions in previously appropriated funds not yet spent but already obligated would remain in the foreign aid coffers.

SEEK 'DYNAMITE KID'

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Police were searching today for a teenage gunman they dubbed the "Dynamite Kid." They said the boy, 19 years old, has terrorized the city after a series of holdups in Ohio and Pennsylvania. He allegedly robbed a couple in a parked car Monday night after forcing them to drive around for two hours. Police said the youth boasts he carries dynamite in a vest and would blow up himself and any policeman who comes near him.

tion on the performance of nuclear weapons and civilian atomic power and authority to start negotiations for a global A-pool to help backward nations. Both houses defeated attempts to widen the President's authority. And he must get congressional approval for any international atomic agreements.

2. New security regulations, emphasizing periodic release of non-strategic information and giving the AEC more authority to order full field investigations for sensitive jobs.

3. Legal definition of the AEC chairman as the commission's "official spokesman" with some added administrative control, while specifying equal authority for all five AEC commissioners.

A second major battle swirling around the measure may have further repercussions.

Power Section Okayed
The Senate approved an amendment by Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) specifically approving an Eisenhower directive to have the AEC contract with a Southern utility group for new private power facilities to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

This provision may remain in the measure. But a second amendment, by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) would prohibit the AEC from filing federal taxes, as contemplated, for the utility group during the contract. Its deletion could cause a new round of Senate debate.

Opponents of the power contract, mostly Southern Democrats, tongue-lashed it for most of eight days. Knowland called this a filibuster and ordered continuous sessions.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn), one of the opponents, today claimed the talkfest prevented approval of a bill that "would have been disastrous to the American people."

Approval was "in no sense a victory for the Eisenhower administration," Humphrey said in a statement.

hauled into courts. Hundreds face loss of driving rights as a result of citations.

The result, officials said, apparently is re-ulting in better compliance with speed laws and other regulations. Patrolmen have blamed excessive speed for a large percentage of highway accidents.

Cooperating with the patrol and legislators is the Governor's Traffic Safety Committee of representative citizens headed by Jesse T. Smith of Cleveland. An ex-officio member is director U. C. Felty, of the new state Highway Safety Department.

Heading the committee's legislative branch is Rep. Samuel L. Devine (R-Franklin). Devine, seeking re-election, predicts the next Legislature will enact a series of laws in the interest of highway safety.

The Columbus attorney sponsored safety legislation that barely failed to win approval in the last session. One proposal called for a compulsory $1.50 automobile inspection to keep defective cars off highways. The measure ran into debate over the inspection fee that doomed its passing.

Supporting his prediction, Devine said New York adopted such a law recently. That state acted after an independent engineering firm reported favorably on a survey of 14 states with similar laws, he explained.

Another proposal by Devine called for a point system to penalize drivers for violations. Drivers assessed points above a quota would lose their licenses. A few, states and a Canadian province have such a system, but the last Legislature failed to approve it for Ohio.

The Legislature also refused to require voluntary blood, breath or urine tests for intoxication under penalty of license revocation for refusal.

Patrol officers said reports indicated that motorists in other states also were paying better heed to traffic regulations. They credited educational campaigns for safety in addition to concentrated enforcement efforts.

Miss Hayes

Sheppard denied being intimate with the young technician at any time. He acknowledged that he bought her a watch to replace one she lost when they went to a wedding with some friends.

Miss Hayes "Cooperative"

The chief said Miss Hayes was "very cooperative" and had volunteered some information after arriving at the airport last night. Miss Hayes was taken to Central Police Station. She talked with a battery of officials for about an hour and a half. Then for more than a hour she dictated a statement, and signed it.

County investigators said the last statement the young woman had made in California showed "some differences" from the accounts given by Dr. Sheppard.

Assistant County Prosecutor John J. Mahon said this statement included the fact she and Dr. Sheppard had maintained a correspondence, with Miss Hayes sending her letters to the doctor's office.

Dr. Samuel Gerber, the county coroner, said he did not plan to reconvene the inquest to hear Miss Hayes' testimony.

Gerber also disclosed that testimony had been taken privately from the Sheppards' 6-year-old son, "Chip," but that the boy did not have any valuable information. He was asleep in an adjoining bedroom when his mother was killed.

Technician Looks Tired
The attractive, brown-eyed technician looked tired when she stepped down the ramp from an airplane at Cleveland Hopkins Airport, while a crowd of several hundred persons gazed at her.

Deeply tanned, the brunette wore a tan, patterned dress and carried a straw bag and white coat. She started past the crowd and ignored reporters' questions. There were circles under her eyes.

A police car rolled to the foot of the ramp, and descending before the other passengers, she was hustled inside the car and whisked away.

Her name came up frequently during the coroner's inquest, which was recessed Monday.

Dr. Sheppard's father, Dr. Richard A. Sheppard Sr., testified that the murdered woman had been "disturbed about Susan."

A neighbor, Mrs. Nancy Aher, told the coroner that Mrs. Sheppard had confided her husband was "interested in a young lady in California," but it was "all over now."

Little Leaguers Win, Play Tonight For Title; Pony Stars Lose

4-2 Win Puts Salem In Finals

Large Crowd Expected At Palestine Playoff

The Salem Little League All-Stars will play for the Area C championship tonight at East Palestine after dropping the East Liverpool Nationals 4-2 Tuesday at East Liverpool.

This evening at 6 p.m. the locals take on tough Youngstown Western. Western beat Austintown 6-3 in first round play Monday and dropped Tri-T 9-4 last night.

The winner of this game will advance to Campbell, along with the winners of the Area A, B and D playoffs, to vie for the regional crown next Tuesday and Wednesday. With large crowds of Salem fans following the boys for the first two games, an even bigger delegation is expected to make the trip this evening to Palestine.

Last night, Elmer Smith's clutch hitting and sterling defensive play, along with Paul Herman's eight-hitter in which he struck out three men and walked only one, gave Salem the important victory.

However, East Liverpool outlived Salem 8-4.

IN THE FIRST inning, after Bobby Lehwald walked, Elmer Smith's two-out single brought home the first run for Salem. Three consecutive hits for Liverpool in the second knotted the count.

Then, in the third, Salem won the game with a big three-run rally.

Bobby Potter was hit by the pitcher, and Bob Moran lined a ground-rule double over the fence in left-center. Again with two out, Smith came through, this time driving a single to right field, scoring both runners.

After Smith advanced to second, Herman added an insurance tally with a single but was out trying to stretch it to a two-bagger.

Two hits resulted in the final Liverpool run in the fifth, although it took a great play to nip this rally.

With two on and two out, East Liverpool left fielder Dave Zelch lined a double off the wall in left-center. David Hunter, who pitched Salem's first-round win on Monday, played the rebound off the wall perfectly and lined a perfect strike to the plate to nip the sliding runner, ending the inning with only one run scored.

IN THE SIXTH, with one man on first, two out and the tying run at the plate, Tony Everett, Salem shortstop scooped up sharp grounder, stepped on second for a force out and flipped to first for a beautiful game-ending double play.

Bob Potter, local catcher, was removed from the game when he was hit in the head by a pitched ball in the third inning. He was taken to a Salem doctor, pronounced unharmed and Potter later rejoined the team for a snack after the game.

For tonight's crucial game, manager Ralph Mancuso is undecided about his pitching assignment. He will call upon either David Hunter or Elmer Smith, who hasn't pitched in three weeks because of an arm injury.

Western is the same team which eliminated Salem last year at Campbell.

Although last season they were called "South," a rearrangement in the Youngstown Little League setup made them "Western" this year.

Jerry Murphy, the same hurler which pitched that game against the locals last season, probably will get the nod again tonight, Mancuso said.

Jones 2-1 Favorite Over George Johnson

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Jones, who hit the headlines by twice beating Gil Turner and then turning down an alleged $15,000 bribe offer in a fight with Joey Giardello, is a 2-1 favorite to whip Trenton's George Johnson tonight at Madison Square Garden.

The 10-rounder, to be telecast by CBS, will start at 10 p.m. EDT. The last time Jones was in the Garden he aroused the customers to loud protests when the officials gave Giardello a unanimous decision. It was razor close on all three cards, 5-4-1.

Jones, 28-year-old Oakland, Calif., veteran of 65 fights, is a fine boxer without too much wallop. He has stopped only five men in his career while piling up a 37-20-8 record since 1945.

Johnson is a youngster of 2 with a good wallop. He stopped Moses Ward, the man who upset Yolande Pompey last week, and had run up a string of 17 straight until he was knocked out by Holly Mims May 5 at Baltimore. His career record is 27-4.

Both boxers are "light" middleweights, weighing around 135 or 154 pounds.

Salem Tool Clips Lisbon 6-5; Parkers, Leetonia Also Win

Salem Tool moved into sole possession of second place in the Class AA Softball League last night with a 6-5 victory over cellar-dwelling Lisbon. In two other games, both in Class A at Kelley Field, Parkers and Leetonia defeated the Old Timers 7-2.

Tied for second place with Demings going into the game, Salem Tool scored six runs on only five hits. Five runs came in the first three innings as a result of four Lisbon errors.

Tool led for the first five innings until a home run by Lisbon's Paul Fauls tied it up at 5-5, but regained the lead in the seventh on John Baker's double.

Pitcher Leo Kline was credited with the victory and Paul Logue the loss.

Compiling three hits in the third inning, Leetonia smashed out their 7-2 victory over the Old Timers.

Locals Drop 9-1 Tilt To Warren

Same Teams Tangle Again Thursday At 6

The Salem Pony League All-Star championship hopes hit a snag last night when the potent Warren stars upset the locals 9-1 at Youngstown's Stambaugh Field in the first game of a best-of-three series.

Salem had won three straight games last week and roared into this series hoping to gain a regional berth at Canton next week. Salem, with its back against the wall, will take on Warren again Thursday at 6 p.m. at the same field. If Salem wins, the two teams will tangle for the Area 8 title either Friday or Saturday. The winner of this series will then advance to Canton for the regionals.

The difference last night was a big left-hander, Bob Gilger, who limited Salem to only one hit during the game. Gilger also pitched the contest which eliminated Salem last year and later sparked his team to a berth in the Pony League World series at Williamsport, Pa.

This season, he is continuing his sterling work, giving up only 2 hits in 21 innings of playoff pitching so far.

Salem's only hit was recorded by Dick Beall, who replaced Moe Meissner on the mound in the fifth inning. Darryl Adams scored the only run.

Meanwhile, Warren totaled 13 hits including a home run by Jim Jones, who went three for three.

Gilger struck out 10 Salem batters while the local squad was guilty of four errors.

ers on only four hits by taking advantage of the Old Timers' two errors. They picked up one marker in the first on a walk, an error and Bell's sacrifice fly and again in the second parlayed an error into a score.

Parkers, by getting seven runs in the last two innings, outscored Electric Furnace 10-6. A home run by Modern with two on highlighted Parker's big sixth inning as they went out in front for the first time in the game. A triple by Ehrhart in the seventh accounted for three insurance tallies.

THEISS WINS

Bob Theiss of Salem, currently a Western Reserve University star, received credit for the win last night when he pitched his Home Club Team to a 13-inning 8-6 win over Modern Manor in Youngstown "AA" competition. It was Home Club's first triumph in the second half.

Trucks Blanks Yanks 4-0, Dodgers Trip Cubs, Giants Lose To Cards, Lead Only By Two

By JOE REICHLER

Hank Greenberg, whose player deals during the past few years have backfired more often than a 1929 jalopy, finally appears to have found a live one in Vic Wertz. Each day, the slugging outfielder-first baseman looms larger and larger in the Cleveland Indians' pennant plans.

Last night, for instance, he slammed a home run and double and drove in three runs as the Indians whipped Boston 6-3 for their 14th victory over the Red Sox in 15 decisions.

The Tribe now leads the New York Yankees by 2½ games. The Yanks were shut out by Chicago's Virgil Trucks 4-0.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals thrashed the New York Giants 7-4 after Brooklyn's onrushing Dodgers had won a 7-6 slugging bee from the Chicago Cubs. The Giants' onetime seven-game bulge over Brooklyn has dwindled to a mere two in six days.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phillies whipped the Cincinnati Reds 8-2, Baltimore defeated Washington 7-5 and Philadelphia's Athletics beat Detroit 8-3 after the Tigers had won the opener of the two-night twin bill 3-2. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh were not scheduled.

It was a lucky break for the Indians when they acquired Wertz from Baltimore for pitcher Bob Chakales at the start of last month. The bald-headed outfielder, hitting an anemic .202 for the Orioles, didn't figure to be of much help. But since joining the Tribe, the 29-year-old Detroit native has been hitting at a .306 clip.

With Al Rosen adding a homer for Cleveland, Bob Lemon had an easy time registering his 12th triumph although he yielded 10 hits. Ted Williams failed to hit safely, ending his 14-game hitting streak. Trucks, the strong-armed Chicago right-hander, handcuffed the Yankees with five hits. It was his fourth shutout and 14th victory of the season. Harry Byrd was tagged for eight hits, two each by Phil Cavarretta and Jim Rivera.

The Dodgers, powered by home runs by Duke Snider and Jackie Robinson, gave Don Newcombe an early 6-0 lead but the big right-hander lost most of it and it took a neat relief job by Billy Loes to pull the Dodgers through.

Wally Moon and Stan Musial led a late St. Louis drive to bring the Cardinals up from a 2-0 deficit to

The big fish does not always get away as demonstrated last week by Lonnie Brewer of Wellsville. He hooked on to an unusually large carp in Little Beaver Creek while fishing with soft craws and the battle was on.

He played him up and down the creek until he wore him down. Not having a gaff hook or landing net handy, he did next best, and this series hoping to gain a regional berth at Canton next week. DON HUSTON of Lisbon brought home 30 pounds of snapping turtles caught on turtle hooks in Shiveley's Lake near Rogers.

His method is to tie the line to a jug, use beef for bait and the secret he says is to anchor the bait to the bottom with a brick. The bait must be kept on the bottom. There is nothing more flavorful than fried turtle or home-made turtle soup.

Joe Post who has a small lake at his home near Winona uses a different method to catch snappers. Joe says it is a simple matter to catch them when you see their heads appear on the surface.

Just paddle up to the spot quietly in a boat and reach down a couple of feet in the water and scoop them up with your hands. He says a turtle lies just under

Strattons Pound Siders 8-0

Bob Spiker's brilliant one-hitter kept Stratton Chevrolet undefeated in Class B play, sparking an 8-0 win over Siders yesterday at Kelley Field.

It marked Stratton's 13th consecutive victory.

Losing hurler Don Scattergood gave up only four hits, but a home-run by Keith Lofland with two mates on was enough for the winners. Ed Probert recorded Siders' only safety.

Friday, Strattons will take on Bloombergs.

an easy victory over the Giants. Moony smashed four hits. Musial cracked his 28th homer with two mates aboard.

Robin Roberts became the first 15-game winner in the majors as the Phils submerged the Reds. Del Ennis, Bobby Morgan and Danny Schell homered to give the ace right-hander an early 8-0 lead.

Sparked by Billy Hunter's triple and two singles, the Orioles snapped Washington's six-game winning streak with a 13-hit attack. Every Baltimore batter hit safely except pitcher Duane Pillette, who gained his ninth victory.

Bill Tuttle's ninth-inning single scored Red Wilson with the run that gave Steve Gromek his 12th victory as Detroit grabbed the opener from Philadelphia. The Athletics rapped Ned Garver for 12 of their 13 hits to give Marion Fricano an easy victory in the nightcap.

Indians Blast Red Sox 6-3, Boost Their AL Lead To 2½ Games Over Yankees

Wertz, Rosen Hit Home Runs

Doby Injured, Out For Some Games

CLEVELAND (AP)—With an assist from Chicago, the Cleveland Indians hold the American League's top spot by 2½ games as they go after the Boston Red Sox tonight for the second time in a three-game series.

The Tribe overpowered the Red Sox, 6-3, last night, while the White Sox handed the second-place New York Yankees a 4-0 drubbing at Comisky Park.

The Chicagoans, in third place and trailing the leaders by six games, have two more cracks at the Yanks.

The Indians skate through an agenda that includes two more Red Sox contests and four against the Washington Nats before confronting the New Yorkers next Tuesday at Cleveland Stadium in the opener of a three-game session.

The Tribe copped two out of three in New York last weekend, winning 8-2 and 5-4, before dropping the last one, 4-3.

Last night's game marked the beginning of a 14-game home stand for the Indians, who registered their 14th victory over the Red Sox, with only one defeat.

Twice last week the two teams were in a tie. They went 16 innings in Boston before a league curfew ended the game at 5:55 shortly before 1 a. m. Twenty hours later, a rainstorm in the ninth inning halted the game at 7-7.

Bob Lemon posted his 12th victory against five defeats last night with the backing of Al Rosen and Vic Wertz, who slammed homers.

Rosen registered his 18th home run of the season and regained the Tribe's hitting leadership by boosting his batting average to .319, two percentage points above Bob Avila, who has made only three hits in his last 33 times at bat. Wertz has four homers for the season.

Lemon snapped the 14-game hitting streak of Ted Williams, who has 15 homers for the season. Williams came to bat in the ninth inning with bases loaded and could have evened the score with a circuit clout. Instead, he has retired on a sacrifice fly, with one run scoring.

The Indians got 11 hits off rookie Frank Sullivan, while Boston totaled 10 hits against the Cleveland pitcher.

Larry Doby suffered a back injury when he tried to catch Jack Jensen's homer in the sixth. The centerfielder leaped high in the air over the outfield fence and dropped to the ground on the other side. He stayed in the game for two more innings and then was pulled out. Trainer Wally Bock said the injury was not serious, though Doby might miss some games.

Billy Goodman, Boston first baseman, also was hurt last night on his return to the Red Sox lineup after his right index finger was fractured two weeks ago. A wild throw in the first inning hit the finger and re-injured it. He was taken out of the game.

BROWNS TO BE ON TV

Radio Station WGAR and WXEL-TV, both of Cleveland will broadcast the Cleveland Browns football games during the coming season, an announcement said today.

DETROIT—Bobby Hughes, 173, Warren, Ohio, stopped Lou King, 166, Chicago, 7.

Palmer Leads North Ohio Golf Qualifier

CLEVELAND (AP)—For the second year in a row, Arnold Palmer has led the northern Ohio qualifier for the National Amateur Golf Tournament. But this time he was tied for medal honors by Ed Preisler of Cleveland.

Palmer, the Pennsylvania who holds a club membership here, is the Ohio amateur king for 1953 and 1954 who went to the fifth round of the National Amateur in Oklahoma City last year. One of his victims at Oklahoma City was the defending champion, Jack Westland.

The qualifier was played on the par 71 Kirtland Country Club course, 6,810 yards long. Preisler, the district amateur champion, shot 73-71-144. He was three over par on the first six holes of the afternoon, but picked up birdies on the next two holes and duplicated Palmer's eagle three on the tenth.

Palmer shot a 40 on the back nine in the morning and finished that session with a 76, but he came back in the afternoon with a 68 despite a double bogey six on the 18th. He scored eagle threes on the eighth and 10th and had birdies on the fourth and 13th.

Eddie Meister Jr., of Cleveland, 75-70-145; Tom Jones Jr., of Youngstown, 73-73-146, and Ed Schultz of Cleveland, 72-75-147, were the other qualifiers in the field of 33.

All have played in the national event before.

Five alternates were chosen, but none of them is expected to be called. All five of the qualifiers are expected to compete in the Aug. 23-28 national competition at the Country Club of Detroit-Grosse Pointe Farms, Mich.

The first alternate is Lawrence (Bud) Greenwald, formerly of Tex., who shot 76-73-149. Second alternate is Robert J. G. Morton of Columbus, 76-74-150.

The other three were tied, and their positions were determined by lot. Third alternate is Richard Harty of Akron, 75-76-151; fourth alternate is Fred (Rick) Jones of Youngstown, 76-75-151, and the last is Richard E. Joyce, Lakewood, 76-75-151.

Chick Harbert Defeats Burkemo In PGA Finals

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—At the age of 39, with the years beginning to show in greying hair and a slight paunch, Chick Harbert yesterday won his first national golf title, beating out Walt Burkemo.

The onetime boy wonder, now a part-time tournament player and vice-president of a golf club manufacturing concern, said before the PGA Tournament began:

"If I reach the final I'll probably make the same danged mistakes I did when I went to the finals before."

It looked as if that prediction might come true yesterday when Chick knocked his second shot out of bounds into a cornfield.

For three holes he was the same old Chick, the fellow who could hit a mile but often hit a half mile into the rough. He was under a tree on the second hole, but recovered. He fought the rough and buried his ball in a sandtrap for a double bogey 7 on the third. And when Burkemo birdied the fourth, Wally was 3 up and well on the way to a successful defense of the title he won last year.

That's when he stopped making mistakes and started playing the kind of golf of which he is capable at his brilliant best. For the next 30 holes, he never was over par and he lost only two of them. At the finish he was on top by a 4 and 3 margin.

It was the ninth time Harbert had tried for the PGA title. It was his third trip to the finals. He tried to match his booming, uncontrolled drives against Jim Ferrier's putter in 1947 and lost. Five years later he hit a wild drive under a tree at Louisville and lost to Jim Turnesa.

"It's the only national title I've ever won," he said. "Naturally I think it's the most important. Wally is a great player and a great fellow to play with."

Harbert said he thought the 10th hole was the turning point of the match. That was when he wedged a shot up for par, the second straight hole he had won. He also took the 11th to square the match, and from there on there was no stopping him.

Burkemo also played fine golf except for a flurry of wild shooting from the 10th through the 15th in the morning, when he had three bogeys and lost three holes. From there on he shot 19 holes in 3 under par and couldn't gain an inch.

Sports Editor Says Pirates Lost $1,850,000

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Al Abrams, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, said today the Pittsburgh Pirates have lost approximately $1,850,000 since Branch Rickey became general manager four years ago.

In the first of a series of copyrighted articles entitled "A Factual Report on the State of the Pirates," Abrams said the club is "staggering under a financial load which could lead to eventual disaster and sale of the club."

World's most efficient truck engines!

You get top efficiency from Power-Dome V-8's because:

- 1. Heat that is lost in other types of engines is converted into useful power. 2. High-lift valves and unrestricted manifold mean more efficient "breathing." 3. Large bore and short stroke cut wasteful friction. Where other engines lose up to 10% of their power by 10,000 miles, due to carbon, Dodge truck Power-Dome V-8's lose practically no power.

Facts and Figures

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Facts, figures and figures from an oddity almanac in a modern world:

Let's start off with the girls, since they interest everyone. Are "falsies" really necessary? Even girls torn by doubt, or stern feminine honesty, now have a choice in their solution. A manufacturer has come out with a brassiere coated with a thin layer of foam rubber to achieve a desired silhouette, and claims he is doing very well overseas from Belgium to Peru.

Do you know how often your heart beats? If you live the biblical span of 70 years, it will pulse between two and three billion times. The encyclopedias are chary of saying how often the average human heart beats. They don't want to worry you, but mine checks 75 when I am not worried, and 10 plus when the boss is looking. But they will tell you that a horse's heart beats 30 times a minute, these are the ones I bet and lose on; and a mouse races his pumper 500 to 1,000 times every 60 seconds.

Names not only make news they also make you wonder. The town of Snackover, Ark., for example, came from the French term, Chemin Couvert, meaning covered road, and I can't find out why. The authorities all agree on Snackover, but nobody I know claims to know how Wham, La., got its punch. Business firms are easier to trace. The Rugrofters, a major hand-woven rug company now in Puerto Rico, migrated from North Carolina, where its weavers still held to the old Scottish word "croft," meaning a small farm.

You probably never bothered to think about how the great Shell Oil Co., got its tag. Well, back in the 1830s it was a small general trading company that, among other things, earned a fast buck by importing sea shells from the orient to make mother of pearl. Then it stumbled into oil, and quit worrying about the button market.

But suppose it had adopted the title, "Mother of Pearl, Inc.," and then had to go into the world market peddling gasoline? An industrial outfit can, of course, change its corporate name to meet the purposes of its life. But a child is more reluctant to turn upon its parents, and this is why every parent should give a child at least four names at birth, so that later in life it can have a choice if it feels it needs it.

The almanac editorial: Last winter, as usual, we warned our readers against the spreading prevalence of the common cold, which year after year begins more and more to resemble "virus X," an ailment for people who, for personal reasons, prefer to catch an uncommon cold.

Now we summon our subscribers to a concerted attack on ragweed, which many of our friends say causes them to suffer from hay fever, a disease they say is an allergy.

Personally, we think that a guy who gets a common cold in the winter, and insists on calling it "virus X," is naturally subject to hay fever, which we ourselves believe is a summer cold. But you can't deny a friend the pleasure of making his own malady mysterious.

So do your neighbors a good turn. Attack and destroy ragweed—root, stalk and pollen—wherever it leaves a green head. There is no market for the stuff anyway.

(Editors Note: This issue of the oddities almanac is skipping its usual science department notes because the man assigned to this field took a new wonder drug and, as we go to press, is still too sick to describe its benefits to mankind.)

Almanac quotes to live a life by: "Does his own fatal passion belong to each man his God?—Virgil." "Success is the child of audacity"—Disraeli.

Almanac long-range weather forecast: Hot air storms, spreading across entire country and reaching a peak just before autumn elections; followed by cooling showers.

80th Birthday Party Planned For Hoover

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—Just about the biggest birthday party in Iowa's history is being planned here next month for Herbert Hoover, former President of the United States.

Hoover will be 80 Aug. 10. On that date, this town where he was born will be host to thousands of Iowans and a large group of distinguished persons invited to help honor Hoover.

SPEAKERS IN SENATE TALKATHON—Senators Lister Hill and John Sparkman, Alabama democrats, leave the Senate floor temporarily in Washington after each spoke for three hours against administration atomic energy proposals during the night and day continuous Senate session.

$40,174 Is Stolen From Missouri Bank

PEVELY, Mo. (AP)—The Bank of Pevely had to make arrangements to get money from a St. Louis bank so it could open today. Two robbers made off with every cent in the bank yesterday.

They took $40,174, bank officials said. "The first I knew about it was when one of the men climbed over the top of the tellers' cage—about eight feet high—and looked into the loan department," said William A. Weber, 38, the cashier.

Weber and four other employees were ordered into a vault, but the robbers left the door partially open to give them air.

The escape car was found abandoned on a country road 3½ miles from this community of 300 about 25 miles south of St. Louis.

Now All Can Speak Eskimo's Language

OTTAWA, Ont. (AP)—Now you too can speak Eskimo!

The Rev. Arthur Thibert, after 27 years in the arctic, has produced a 4,000-word dictionary much like the Spanish-made-easy texts Americans use in Latin America.

The Roman Catholic missionary says his aim is to provide a suitable tool for missionaries and others working in the arctic. The dictionary is elementary, he adds, since the Eskimo language is full of gimmicks. A single root word may have 160,000 variations.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

East Berlin that hits your gut when you cross their line.

Since my hair needed cutting and my trench coat had cigarette burns, and I hadn't shaved and my worrisome German mentor and translator had warned me against it, I spent half a day in this corner of the "People's Democracy" to see how the other half the world lives.

In East Berlin it's not good.

After hours in the Soviet sector—walking the grim streets, riding the trolleys from the demarcation line at the Potsdamer Platz, comparing shop windows—I could understand what I had not been able to comprehend fully earlier at the West Berlin Central Emergency Reception Camp for Refugees from the Russian world.

After my hours behind the "Iron Curtain" I finally understood in my heart as well as my mind, why hundreds of young couples dangle their babies and belongings into baby carriages and go the long way around through the rural areas to sneak across the line into civilized Berlin. Here they face loneliness, charity's food, joblessness and wandering after being cleared. But still they come. It's better to be hungry but free, even if the corners are unfamiliar.

THIS TRIP of mine was no cloak and dagger stuff. I took a taxi to the Potsdamer Platz, across from the rubble mound marking the spot where a man by name of Adolph Hitler burned to death.

At one side of the Platz is a row of "last stop" stores. Here, if you don't buy too bulky a package, you can pick up oranges, bananas and many things you can't get in the workers' paradise, which is literally fifty feet across the street. Here, too, the store windows say "Ost Geld" accepted. They take Eastern sector marks at five to one for Western marks, which makes the Eastern Soviet mark worth about a nickel. So I picked myself up some Eastern marks without much difficulty, making certain not to get too many, since the Russians have made it illegal to have more than 60 marks in cash.

This means no East Berliner can carry more than the equivalent of three dollars on him without running the danger, not only of having the surplus confiscated, but of being arrested as a "saboteur of the national economy."

So, since some 40,000 West Berliners work in East Berlin and walk across the line, or take a trolley to the line and then change for the enemy's marks, or take the subway or the electrified S-Bahn—and since some 35,000 East Berliners do the same, coming to work each day in our zone, I simply stepped across the street.

AS SOON AS you do that you leave the chattering crowds behind. Soon you look squarely in the eye of a sign which blandly says that here begins the Democratic Zone of Gross-Berlin. You walk nonchalantly towards the trolley lines two blocks distant.

You ride. You see rubble. More rubble. Occasionally you see reconstructed workers' houses, occupied by those tovarishchi who are safely "democratic," a la Russe. These houses, I was told to observe, and did, have no doors but one opening on the street. They have no balconies, and in only one room in each apartment do the windows work.

This means that you can get out of the apartment building through only one door—unless you want to plunge through a glass window. Very clever, the MVD.

I wandered about trying to find something called Lenin Allee, where I was told the Russians stored U. S. cigarettes, nylons and coffee until recently. These were the depots for their smuggling rings.

The stuff was run into West Berlin's old black market so they could get Western marks and turn them into dollars—so they could pay their informers, and keep their parties and propagandists financed in London, Paris and Rome.

I also looked for the East Berlin Weissensee district, where smugglers operate, but my German is limited to ordering a Luchow's; so I kept my mouth shut, couldn't find these streets and took the subway round trip, in and out of the two sectors.

ON THE WAY BACK into the Soviet district, at the first stop inside the workers' paradise, the conversation dies, people whisper, free Berlin newspapers are stuffed into pockets.

The Communist cops come through as the train stops just a little longer. They peer about for bundles, just as they look into autos at check points on the street—looking mostly for proscribed food items, anti-commie literature, and the very good West Berlin money. But little happens as everybody sits sullen and tense. The cop steps off, and the train moves on smoothly—without a jerk.

So it goes, hundreds of thousands cross every day, visiting relatives in the other sector; women going in to shop in the West's department stores or even to have their hair done. It's one big city, but you know what sector you're in even without reading the warning signs, by the rubble, by the shop windows. But mostly by the terror

Questions, Answers On Social Security

The following are typical questions and answers to social security problems, furnished by Social Security Field Representatives Robert P. King and John Weiker at the Salem Post-office.

Q—I am a notary public. Are the fees which I receive acting in that capacity subject to Social Security self-employment tax?

A—No. Income received from performance of the functions of a public office is specifically excluded from social security coverage. This exclusion does not apply to other business income which an official might receive.

Q—I am a retired teacher. During this year I have sold two houses, one of which I purchased for a residence 15 years ago. Until its sale I used it for that purpose. The other I inherited five years ago. May I report the profit which I realized on these transactions as self-employment income and pay social security tax?

A—No. With certain exceptions specified in the law, income from a trade or business, as defined in the Internal Revenue Code, is subject to social security tax, and may be used to establish social security earnings credits. Since they are not specifically excluded, the earnings of a real estate dealer are covered. However, isolated transactions such as you have described involving property not purchased for resale cannot be construed as carrying on a trade or business.

Q—I operate a gasoline service station. I withdraw a regular amount each week to cover my current living expenses. May I report these amounts each quarter along with my employees' wages?

A—No. Since these withdrawals are not wages, but actually withdrawals of profits or capital, they must not be reported on quarterly employees' returns of wages. At the close of your taxable year, when it is possible to figure your exact net earnings from your business, you will report your net earnings for the year for Social Security and pay social security self-employment tax when you file your income tax return. Not only would reporting yourself with your employees mean overpayment of your tax (you would be paying at a rate one-third higher than the self-employed rate), but it also would probably mean reporting an incorrect amount, since withdrawals could hardly be expected to coincide exactly with net profits. This would necessitate correction of your earnings record.

Q—May the members of partnership report their earnings for social security quarterly when they report their employees' wages?

A—No. Like individual proprietors, partners must report themselves at the end of the year, when they file their individual income tax returns.

Q—I am a member of a partnership which reports its income on a fiscal year basis (July 1 to July 1). I file my personal income tax return on a calendar year basis. In reporting my self-employment earnings for social security, must I prorate my share of the partnership earnings since one partnership reporting year falls in parts of two individual reporting years?

A—No. Partnership income

Farm Safety Week

Carelessness Causes Many Rural Deaths, Council Warns

The admonition "Be Careful" has worn thin.

But with the observance of National Farm Safety Week this week, this good old-fashioned warning bears a special meaning, according to Mrs. Curney Converse, president of the Columbiana County Rural Health and Safety Council.

Haste means waste of human lives and suffering to the living on farms where carelessness is considered unimportant, she said.

Was carelessness an element in the death of the Minerva area farmer who forgot to shut down his haybaler before making an adjustment early this month? There were no adult eyewitnesses to the accident which took the life of Howard Stahler as he fed twine into the machine on a Kensington farm, but making any adjustment on machinery while it's in motion is dangerous, Mrs. Converse said.

At any rate, Stahler left behind a wife and seven children. A moment lost in shutting down a machine to correct troubles can mean the difference between life and death, Mrs. Converse said. With the harvest season in full swing, farm machines are one of the main culprits in mangling human bodies.

The 4-H safety check list gives these warnings about the use of farm machinery and equipment:

Do not wear loose or torn clothing or gloves around moving machinery; hitch to drawbar and not axle on tractor when pulling; replace temporary repairs such as wire on machinery with permanent cotter pins with cotter pins or bolts.

The farmwife said if each of Columbiana County's 1,500 4-H boys and girls carried out only five of the 22 suggestions on making the farm home a safer place, injuries and deaths would be cut measurably.

The house, although often considered man's refuge, can be a deathtrap, she said. Some pointers to remember are: keep stairways free of magazines, jars, other supplies; remove burnable rubbish from basement and other storage places; keep porches, walks free from toys, grease, pet's pans. Most of all, the council head said, exercise common sense. It will tell you the safe way to live, she concluded.

PROPS FOR WHEAT INCREASE—The Government support price for each bushel of wheat to farmers has increased $1.26 since 1941. Above Newchart traces rise from 1941 (98 cents per bushel) to 1954 (224 cents per bushel). Only drop was 1949 when support price dipped to 195 cents per bushel.

Mae West, 60, Opens Night Club Stand

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Mae West opened a two-week stand at the Sahara Hotel last night, selling the same kind of sexy entertainment that launched her career 30 years ago.

She appeared with half a dozen muscle men, including Dick DuBois, Mr. America of 1954, and a large crowd seemed to like what it got. This consisted of double entendre dialogue and some songs, notably "Frankie and Johnnie," which Diamond Lil sang with DuBois.

The 60-year-old Miss West wore a black sequined gown which fully covered the bosom but left bare a not-too-trim midriff.

Logue Monument Firm Opens At New Location

Homer Logue, owner and operator of the Logue Monument Co., announces his new location on the Damascus Road about a fourth mile west of the city limits. The establishment, formerly the Bryan Granite Company, was located on S. Ellsworth Ave.

Mr. Logue in 1951 purchased the company, which had been in operation over 50 years. He purchased half interest with his brother, E. E. Logue, in 1946.

Having learned the trade from his grandfather, Homer N. Logue, Sr., Mr. Logue does his own lettering. He was affiliated with his brother in Greenville, Pa., and later operated a business at Sharpsville, Pa., before entering the Merchant Marine.

Because of his ability and fine workmanship, Mr. Logue has been authorized as the Columbiana County dealer for one of the trade name monument companies.

Mrs. Logue is secretary at the Monument company.

McClellan Leads In Arkansas

Ellender Easily Wins Louisiana Senate Post

By The Associated Press
Sen. Allen J. Ellender coasted to a fourth term in Louisiana's Democratic primary yesterday and Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) held a slender majority against his first primary opposition in 12 years.

The Democratic nomination in either state almost always means election.

McClellan, his bespectacled face a familiar sight to television viewers of the Senate's McCarthy-Army inquiry, bid strong to wreck the comeback attempt of former Gov. Sil McMath. McClellan helped beat McMath's bid for re-election as governor two years ago.

Although leading McMath by a good margin, McClellan's majority was shaved by votes going to two other candidates. Failure to poll a majority would postpone a decision on McClellan's third-term try until a runoff with McMath Aug. 10.

Nearly complete unofficial returns gave McClellan 155,020; McMath, 120,785; Paul Chambers, 28,609, and Leonard Ellis, 2,900. McClellan's majority was 2,726.

Ellender won over two opponents in Louisiana, reaping a big margin in rural districts though losing New Orleans. The state's biggest city gave a hometown nod to Frank B. Ellis, Democratic national committeeman and Ellender's No. 1 opponent.

Late returns gave Ellender 252,815; Ellis, 154,008; and State Rep. Gilbert Fault, 19,527.

Yesterday's runoff primary in Oklahoma, State Sen. Raymond Gary won the Democratic nomination for governor, topping William O. Coe by 17,000 votes. But a major upset saw Lt. Gov. James E. Berry turned out of office for the first time in 20 years. Berry's try for a sixth term was spoiled decisively by Cowboy Pink Williams, a rancher whose fame was built on a strange name and a tongue-in-cheek hassle with Post Office officials over "obscene" political postcards.

Both Gary and Williams trailed in the first primary—Williams by 70,000—but came back with the strength to win in the runoff.

In all three states, incumbent congressmen seemed assured of renomination, though Rep. Harris (D-Ark.) was pressed.

In Arkansas, Gov. Francis Cherry appeared headed for a runoff with Orval Faubus, weekly newspaper publisher, in his try at re-election. Cherry's plurality was big but two other candidates deprived him of a majority.

In Oklahoma, the Republican Senate nomination to oppose Democratic Sen. Robert Kerr went to Fred Mock, an attorney and political newcomer. He topped Raymond Fields, Guymon publisher and party stalwart.

Man Swallows Needle, It Is Taken From Foot

SANTA ANA, Calif. — A physician removed an inch-long needle yesterday from the right foot of Guy J. Gilbert, 83.

Gilbert recalled he accidentally swallowed the needle 76 years ago in Angola, Ind. About six months ago he began feeling a dull ache in the foot.

Shock Of Husband's Death Kills Woman

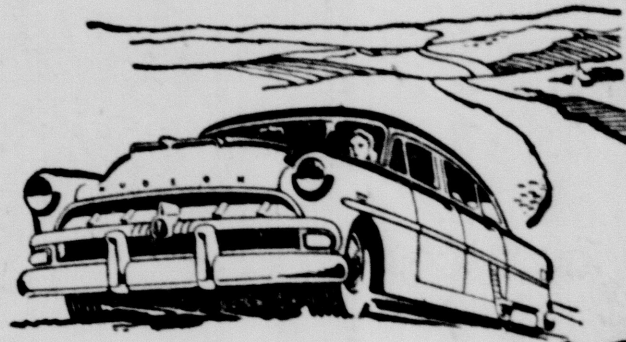

BALTIMORE — Mrs. Mae A. Rutter Bien, 49, under treatment for a coronary impairment, was warned several months ago that a sudden shock might be too much for her.

Her husband, Charles B. F. Bien, 63, and apparently in good health, died yesterday after a heart attack in their home.

Mrs. Bien collapsed when her husband was stricken. She died five minutes later.
